

Privacy Policy

Our website address is shapeshift.co.za

Shapeshift Digital is committed to the safekeeping of any information shared or submitted via the use of this website and our services.

This Website Privacy Policy describes how the organisation collects, uses, discloses, updates, and protects data you provide to us.

Shapeshift Digital may collect non-personally identifiable information from you when you visit this website. This describes information that does not identify you as an individual. For example:

Technical information is information that is automatically collected when you visit the Shapeshift Digital Website, such as information about your computer or device, hardware, software, connection information, Internet Service Provider, browser type and language, operating system, Internet Protocol (IP) address, the web address of sites you visited before and after visiting the Shapeshift Digital Website, the web search that landed you on the Shapeshift Digital Website, information collected through cookies and web beacons and standard server log information. Technical Information is not personally identifiable information unless it is linked to personally identifiable information about a specific user.

Aggregate information is anonymous data about individuals that is grouped together to study a group or category of services or users. Aggregate Information is not considered personally identifiable information unless it is linked to personally identifiable information about a specific user.

The Information submitted to Shapeshift Digital will be used for administrative purposes only. We may enter your details into other secure services, which are provided by third parties, such as accounting or project management software but this is done only to improve our level of service to you.

Email Correspondence

Shapeshift Digital never sends unsolicited email. You may, however, sign up to receive periodic advice via email regarding new promotions and competitions, news and developments, events and reminders of important dates.

Should you wish to stop receiving these emails, you can elect to be removed from our mailing list by modifying your subscription preferences. Details on how to unsubscribe are included with each email we send. You can also unsubscribe or subscribe by contacting us at letsgrow@shapeshift.co.za
